Scholarship Program

The Program: The Coast Recital Society holds auditions each year to encourage Sunshine Coast students of classical music in their studies. Auditions are for students at intermediate and advanced levels, whether studying on the Sunshine Coast or attending post-secondary institutions off the Sunshine Coast. Students aged 10 to 25 who have lived on the Sunshine Coast are eligible.

Our aim is to encourage study and performance of classical music, activities that can continue throughout life. Auditions give an opportunity to perform, and both students and teachers have found that the experience can build ongoing confidence and ability. Modest awards are available for highly rated auditions: we regard these as gestures of encouragement rather than prizes for competition, and the available amount of money varies greatly from year to year.

Classical Music: We understand classical music to include many styles from many musical periods, following established forms and based on a compositional style rooted in notation. The Royal Conservatory Certificate Program syllabi, for example, are commonly used to indicate suitable classical pieces for various levels of development, but the Coast Recital Society will make the final decision. Pieces that would easily be identified as folk, jazz, or pop will not qualify, although differences can be subtle and cross-influences are many. If there is any doubt about whether a piece will qualify for the auditions, contact the CRS as early as possible for a decision.

The Audition: Two short, contrasting audition pieces must be performed with accompaniment unless especially composed/arranged to be played unaccompanied. Total performance time will not exceed ten minutes.

Special note re COVID: All submissions in 2023 will be by video with links to YouTube or a similar platform, as in 2021 and 2022. Application forms are due by February 12th, 2023, and un-edited video submissions must be received by March 1, 2023.

Accompanists: We understand that the cost of an accompanist may be a financial hardship for some students. CRS offers a subsidy of $60.00 for this purpose, independent of any award.
